

IFG033 TERROR FIRMER // HUMUS split 7"

Two Italian bands duel in the ring for the fastcore championship. HUMUS do some old school stuff. Well, old school if you're thinking 2004. These guys should have had a dozen LP's on 625 Prod. If they were around back then. Basic, youthful, negative hardcore. TERRO FIRMER have a more grindcore base. Love the guitar sound, not down-tuned into oblivion like every grind band these days. The vocalists battle it out DISRUPT-style. They win song title of the split: "Genocide Of The Tragedy Clone Bands".
